That Tired Feeling

The lassitude, languor and debility peculiar to this season are wholly overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, invigorates the nervous system and imparts new life and energy to all the functions of the body.

"I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for biliousness and all impurities of the blood. Last spring I was much benefited by it."—Mrs J. W. Clement, Franklin, N. H.

A lady tells us "the first bottle has done my daughter a great deal of good, her food does not distress her now, nor does she suffer from that extreme tired feeling which she did before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." A second bottle effected a cure.

"The beneficial effects from Hood's Sarsaparilla have been more speedy than from any other preparation."—E. G. Woodman, Wilton, N. H.

We ask special attention to the fact that testimonials published by us are from influential persons who are now living and enjoying the health which the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla has given them.

Capt. P. Thompson, of Lowell, Registrar of Deeds for Middlesex County Northern District, says "I have never found anything that hit my wants as Hood's Sarsaparilla, it purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite and makes me over."

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in my family for scrofulous humor with wonderful success."—C. C. Pickering (Coburn Shuttle Co.), Lowell, Mass.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD

At no other season is the system so susceptible to the beneficial effects of medicine, hence this is the time to take Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify your blood and fortify your system against the debilitating effects of Spring weather. It sharpens the appetite, tones the stomach, invigorates the aged, and imparts new life and energy to all. "My breakfast tasted good this morning for the first time in several months, have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla only three days."

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Has met success at home never accorded to any other proprietary medicine. It has successfully combated the strongest competition, and, by its superior merit to day commands the largest sale and greatest confidence wherever it has been introduced. An Alderman says "Hood's is the strongest Sarsaparilla I ever saw."

"I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be the best blood purifier in the market."—L. J. Clement, of the firm of J. W. & L. J. Clement, Warner, N. H.

OUR POLICY

It is not now, nor has it ever been, the policy of the proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla to mislead the public in any way regarding the curative power of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In advertising, we shall state facts honestly, candidly, and allow the people to judge the claims Hood's Sarsaparilla has upon their confidence and patronage. Thousands have found good health and relief from terrible suffering, through the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, when every other means failed.

DYSPEPSIA does not get well of itself. If you have tried everything without benefit don't give up but try Hood's Sarsaparilla. No other Sarsaparilla has such a sharpening effect upon the appetite. No other preparation tones and strengthens the digestive organs like it.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me of dyspepsia, indigestion and debility. I can eat anything without that awful distress, have a tremendous appetite."—Park Patten, Gardiner, Me.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Combines, in a proportion peculiar to itself, the active medicinal properties of the most approved alterative, tonic and blood purifying remedies of the vegetable kingdom. It will positively cure, when in the power of medicine, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, spring debility, kidney complaints, scrofula, salt rheum and all diseases arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It is nature's great health restorer, and is not equaled by any other medicine. Try it.

FATHER KEMP

Originator of the Old Folks' Concerts, and proprietor of the popular shoe store, 1090 Washington street, Boston, writes "Fifteen years ago I had to give up work. Dangerous symptoms, with constant roar or in the head abscesses forming with fearful suffering till they would break, my legs from ankle to knee would swell and turn black. I used Hood's Sarsaparilla. Result: to day I am a well man, no pains or ails and can do as much work as forty years ago."

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

"I have suffered from Kidney Complaint and Biliousness fifteen years. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me." Jonathan J. Coburn, Dracut, Mass.

Sold by druggists. One dollar, six for five dollars. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. Try it.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The wife of Rev A. P. Tinker, of Auburn, died of convulsions at 10 15 o'clock Friday forenoon. It was a sudden and awful bereavement to her husband and friends. She was in good health till Tuesday night. They had been married not quite a year, and it was not quite two years ago that Mr Tinker buried his first wife.

Cumberland.

The Telegraph says it is stated that another addition is to be made to the Cabot Company's mill in Brunswick.

The Dennison Manufacturing Co has orders for 3000 dozen of boxes to be done by fall, of morocco and plush work, outside of the cabinet boxes, which are large and costly.

Mrs Charles Cary, of Brunswick committed suicide, Wednesday night, by taking Paris Green. No motive can be assigned for the act.

The Argus says John Archibald indicted for an assault upon his wife in Portland, with intent to kill armed with a dangerous weapon, pleaded not guilty Thursday. In the afternoon, he retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of assault with intent to kill, but not as to the allegation that he was armed with a dangerous weapon. The County Attorney entered a nol pros as to the latter allegation. As the indictment now stands, the maximum punishment is ten years in the State Prison.

The building to be erected on West Commercial street, Portland, by the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad company, for their offices, will be a neat, plain brick structure, two stories in height, well lighted, 45x55 feet in size, and each story 12 feet stud.

Kennebec.

The United States special board of examining surgeons, consisting of Drs T. A. Foster, of Portland, B. F. Sturgis of Auburn, and W. B. Lapham of Augusta are examining the pensioners at Togus. There are 618 pensioners at the Home who draw from $1 to $72 a month from the government. The object of this examination is primarily to see if the pensions of some inmates ought not to be reduced, but they have power to recommend an increase as well if in their judgment it is deserved.

Knox.

A Rockland young man was refused a marriage license until he could ascertain the name of his intended bride. He had courted her for two years but only knew her by her nickname.

Somerset.

The Home Farm says there are between Old Point and Norridgewock 25 flocks of grade and full blood Spanish Merino sheep numbering from 20 to 130. They will average 6½ pounds of washed wool per head.

Lemon Stream Lodge No 65 I. O. O. F. New Portland, has completed its 33d year of continuous existence during which time it has lost but one member in good standing by death. It now numbers about 80 members and is in a flourishing condition.

The Advocate says Mr. George B. Gray has bonded his water-power on Anson side, at Madison Bridge to a Mr. Tenny with a view to utilize it for manufacturing purposes. This is one of the best privileges in the State.

Judge Webb has refused to grant the petition of the Lumber Driving Co. for an injunction against Mr Witham, of Carratunk, on the ground that there was too much doubt in regard to the legality of the Baker patent to warrant an injunction and he could neither grant an injunction or require bonds.

Mr D. W. Allen, of Fairfield met with a peculiar accident, Thursday. Some glass trimmings had been thrown into a box in the store, and one sharp piece had been left sticking up over the side. In going by the box he accidentally hit the glass and drove it into his leg about two inches. The wound bled profusely but fortunately it did not sever any large blood vessel.

Washington.

The Calais Advertiser learns that a pulp mill is to be started at Baring or Princeton.

York.

Simon Philbrook now a resident of Cleveland, Ohio, was a school boy at Biddeford, thirty years ago. He claims to have invented some of the most wonderful machines the world has ever seen. First among his "greatest things on earth," says a Cleveland paper, is his drawbridge, which one bridge tender can swing by simply attaching a rope from a weight power to a pulley. Another of his inventions is a street railroad car switch, to switch trains going at any rate of speed without delay, simply by touching a knob in the platform with the foot. Then there is his wonderful car coupler, to couple all kinds of cars by the use of percussion caps. You simply pull a string on the side of the car, and in an instant the whole train bumps together and every car is coupled. He has many other inventions of the same practical sort.

The Times says some evil minded persons have been catching young salmon out of the Saco river. About 50,000 were put into the river at Fryeburg, by the State commissioners last year, and now they are about two inches long. The young fish go up the small streams, and nets are put across the mouths of the brooks, and the fish driven into them.

TO THE PEOPLE.
AN APPEAL FOR FUNDS.

At the last meeting of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland, it was proposed that under its auspices there should be erected in the city of Washington a statue or monument in memory of our former comrade, the late President James Abram Garfield. With that end in view, a committee was appointed by Lieutenant General P. H. Sheridan, president of the society, which organized and proceeded to work, and it is with much pleasure that the committee announce that its efforts have met with such liberal response from all parts of the country as to warrant the assurance that the work will be consummated.

The question now is, and to you we submit it, shall the statue be such an one as we can build with the funds on hand, or will you come to our aid in such a manner as to enable us to erect a work of art in size, design, and workmanship in keeping with the glorious name with which it will forever be associated, as well as an ornament to our already magnificent capital city. It is proposed that the work when completed shall be no longer the property of the society, but be formally transferred through their Chief Magistrate to the people of the United States to be a monument of their affection for all time.

We therefore present to you the opportunity to unite with us in the work and thereby enable us to make the structure in every respect worthy the name of America's foremost people. To that end we request that on the 30th instant a day when all hearts turn in love and grateful remembrance to the soldiers of the Republic and we strew their graves with flowers that a feature of that day shall be the offering and soliciting of contributions to the end set forth. But few can enjoy the privilege of placing a flower on his grave on Decoration Day, but all can contribute the cost of one and thereby enable us to stimulate genius and exhaust art in the endeavor to plant here a statue that will testify to men of all time the great love the people bore him.

It is the desire of the committee that this work be general ... in which all people can take part without feeling it to be a tax, and it is therefore suggested that no contribution from any person on that day shall exceed one dollar.

The press and postmasters throughout the country will receive and forward subscriptions, or, if preferable, a committee of citizens may take charge of the work under such plans as they may deem most efficacious. In either case it is desired that a complete list of subscribers be kept as all subscription lists as well as copies of papers publishing the same are desired for deposit in the corner stone of the statue and will be carefully retained for that purpose.

MR FISH, MR BLAINE AND THE LANDREAU CLAIM

[From the New York Tribune]

A Washington letter gives in full detail the correspondence on the Landreau claim while Mr Blaine was Secretary of State, together with a preceding letter from Mr Fish giving the original instruction on this subject This letter of Mr Fish has been the obstacle and stumbling block in the way of those who have been so eager to assail Mr Blaine At first there was a labored effort to conceal from the public the fact that Mr Fish had written the letter, and since that fact could not be hidden great ingenuity has been exercised to show that the grounds taken respectively by Mr Fish and Mr Blaine touching the Landreau claim were essentially different The letter of Mr Fish was in all respects a proper, conservative, prudent instruction, and every candid reader will see that Mr. Blaine's instruction was alike proper, conservative and prudent. Indeed, allowing for the different forms of expression employed by the two Secretaries, the real groundwork of both instructions was the same

Let us quote from each

MR FISH IN 1[illegible]

To Mr Thomas J[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] growing out of a contract which appears to [illegible] have been voluntarily entered into by Mr Landreau's brother while Peruvian Government belongs to that class of claims regarding the settlement of which it is the settled practice of this Government not to interfere beyond the use of its good [illegible] [illegible] conduct to cases [illegible] some [illegible] character are [illegible] the Department [illegible] Mr Landreau [illegible] these grounds [illegible] are consequently [illegible]

To Mr Gibbs May [illegible]

Mr Fish repeats the [illegible] and [illegible] the remainder of Mr Fish's [illegible]

MR BLAINE IN 1881

To Gen Hurlbut, Aug 4

IN REGARD TO THE LANDREAU CLAIM I SEE NO REASON TO DIFFER FROM THE CONCLUSION TO WHICH MY PREDECESSORS SEEM TO HAVE ARRIVED John C Landreau is an American citizen, apparently entitled, under a lawful contract to reasonable compensation for important services to the Peruvian Government IN CONFORMITY WITH THE ESTABLISHED PRACTICE OF OUR GOVERNMENT WHILE YOU CAN NOT IN SUCH CASE MAKE AN OFFICIAL DEMAND FOR THE SETTLEMENT OF THIS CLAIM YOU WILL EMPLOY YOUR GOOD OFFICES TO PROCURE ITS PROMPT AND JUST CONSIDERATION

To Gen Hurlbut, Nov [illegible]

Your proposed course in regard to the Landreau claim is approved but that claim must not of course be pressed in any manner that would seem to embarrass Peru in the hour of her great distress

To Mr Prescott, Dec 1[illegible]

THE ONLY CLAIM for which this Department has instructed our Minister at Lima to use his good offices is that known as the Landreau claim AND THIS ONLY TO THE EXTENT OF INSISTING THAT MR. LANDREAU SHOULD BE PERMITTED TO HAVE AN AUTHORITATIVE INVESTIGATION OF HIS CLAIM BY THE PERUVIAN GOVERNMENT and that, if proved to be good and valid, it should be provided for in any treaty with Chili which might affect the property to which it attaches

* * * * * * *

What then is the conclusion of the whole matter?

Mr Fish states that in a claim like Landreau's it is the settled practice of this Government not to interfere beyond the use of its good offices Mr Blaine states that in conformity to the established practice of our Government an official demand for the settlement of the claim cannot be made but that good offices may be used

Mr Fish says the "good offices of the Minister may be used "in behalf of Mr. Landreau to secure for him a speedy investigation and adjustment of his claim.' Mr Blaine says good offices of the Minister may be used "to procure prompt and just consideration of the claim

Mr Fish says good offices may be used "unofficially which means that no "official demand will be made for settlement of the claim Mr Blaine recognizes explicitly in so many words that no official demand will be made for the settlement of the claim

In short and in simple truth the instructions of Mr Fish and Mr. Blaine rest on precisely the same foundation, aim at the same object lay down the same limitations, and indeed, use at many points almost the same language.

It will not fail to be noted, moreover, that when Mr Blaine wrote his instructions the House of Representatives had, upon the report of two separate Committees of Foreign Affairs, unanimously requested the State Department to ask from the Peruvian Government a hearing from Landreau upon his claim Mr. Fish wrote in advance of the request of the House of Representatives. Mr. Blaine wrote after it

The American people cannot be deceived nor bejuggled nor fooled. They will see in the course of both Mr. Fish and Mr Blaine nothing but the ordinary and proper discharge of official duty in a matter of upholding the equitable right of an American citizen to have a hearing in support of an alleged right. Scandal-mongers have already discovered that their labor has been in vain. The whole subject is running into drivel. The attempt to befog it has failed.

ABUSE THAT IS A COMPLIMENT.

[From the Concord (N H) Monitor]

Capt. Boutelle, of THE BANGOR WHIG, is a fortunate man. He not only owns the most influential Republican newspaper east of Boston, with the assurance of being on the Republican Congressional ticket at the next election, but he has managed to secure the enmity of the Democratic and Assistant-Democratic press, including that renegade Republican sheet, the Boston Globe,—the highest possible testimony to his faithfulness as a Republican and his ability as a political leader

THE CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

The Calais Advertiser copies the editorial of the Portland Press indicating that Republican sentiment is decisively in favor of the nomination of Messrs. Reed, Dingley and Boutelle as three of the Congressional candidates, and says

"In view of the fact that Gov. Plaisted has concluded not to call an extra session of the Legislature and that no reapportionment of the State is to be made, that the four Congressional candidates will be elected on a general ticket, the following suggestions of the Portland Press as to whom the Republican party should place on its ticket are timely and to the point and will be approved of by every genuine Republican in the State, and sustained with a zeal and unanimity that can not fail of success "

WHAT MAINE PAPERS ARE SAYING

As the time approaches for the State conventions to assemble, there is the usual amount of speculation in regard to candidates It seems to be fully understood that Gov Plaisted will be renominated by the greenback convention at Bangor June 1st, and endorsed by the Democratic convention in Lewiston, June 27th It is rumored that Governor Plaisted has made overtures to Uncle Solon, but the sage of Chase's Mills seems determined to have no entangling alliances " In this week's issue of "Them Steers," Uncle Solon calls the Greenback convention called at Bangor, June 1st "one of the Democratic conventions " Solon speaks out in meeting thus

"The convention at Lewiston will not make much of a platform, but leave the platform to their candidate The convention at Bangor will put in a big pile of Greenback thunder in their platform so as grease over Greenbackers as they come into the Democratic party. The Bangor convention is a ladder upon which Greenbackers can climb easy into the Democratic party When all have got in the ladder will be pulled into the Democratic loft, and if they get out they have got to jump Both conventions will nominate the same Democrat for Governor and stop there. In the Congressional ticket the Bourbon grease and the Greenback "ile" has got to be mixed, and the mixture will be made later in the heat of the campaign, when two 'square' Democrats and two pretended Greenbackers will be nominated for Congress The county tickets will be made up in the same way, just before election, when it will be too late to take backward steps This is what the Argus means by 'a union ticket for the rest of the offices ' * * * But the Greenback party is not snuffed out in Maine, there are some men in this State who can enjoy religion and see both old parties "chaw" each other up without taking sides with either."

[Lewiston Journal]

It is quite significant that no Democratic paper has in any way alluded to the remark made by the Governor at the conference in this city last week, that he was not in favor of making any "entangling alliance " with Democrats, and on his part should not cater to them in the least. The Democrats are evidently prepared to eat considerable crow in the hope of catching the larger portion of the Greenback vote

GOV PLAISTED AS A GREENBACKER

There is something almost pathetically ludicrous in the anxiety displayed by Governor Plaisted just now to convince the Greenbackers that he is their "own true love and that he will never do any flirting with the naughty Democrats. Of course he is willing that Democrats should vote for him,—and undoubtedly argues that they will do so in spite of any manner of contemptuous treatment by him in public—but he wants particularly to allay the suspicions of former Republicans who have become Greenbackers and to assure them that he is above all "bargains, trades or compromises" with the Democrats In this line he has put forth the following letter to Major Samuel A Berry, Chairman of the Greenback State Committee, which the Democrats are expected to swallow without blinking

AUGUSTA, Feb 25, 1882.

Dear Sam —I wrote you last evening, since which I have been thinking of the coming campaign I want you as chairman of the Greenback State Committee to know one thing and remember it that it is not necessary that I should be elected next fall that consideration must not be the controlling one, to compel us to let down a hair's breadth from the principles of our party In my Inaugural Address, I tried to express the sentiments of the plain people whose habitations are on the cross-roads and back lots If we lose sight of their interests, what better are we than "publicans and sinners?' We are now to be tempted and tried, as we have been before, only more so, perhaps. Our campaign must be a battle for principle, the equal principles for which our party contends are equal rights equal burdens, equal benefits and special privileges to none, against banks of issue and a national debt, against corporate power and the money power and all monopolies—inviting all who believe with us to fight with us No bargains, no trades, no compromises! Do you hear that? No more scrabble for office, or spoils of victory. The people will have no interest in such a contest You are at the head of our organization, and fortunately, too, for all you need to do is to act up to your own convictions, to represent the Greenbackers Never yield your convictions. Sink or swim, Sam, we will stand by the Greenback colors, inviting all, repelling none.

Yours for the Cause,

H. M. PLAISTED.

What kind of a place is Bath anyway?—Argus

It is the place that once was but a "Twenty Cow Parish" and is now the foremost ship building place in the world. Moreover, it is the place that never once, from its earliest to its latest day, has failed in an election to give fits to the party represented by the Argus. Any more conundrums?—Bath Times

On the fourth page this morning we publish a careful analysis of the Peruvian investigation, showing how every charge brought forward in the crusade against Mr Blaine has been promptly met and disproved.

[From the New York Daily Commercial Bulletin]

"It is noticeable that, coupled with the announcement of the death of almost every man of note nowadays, comes the further statement that his life was insured for a greater or less amount. The more prominent the man, especially in the business world, the larger the sum of insurance he is found to have secured. Thus it appears to be the usual thing for sagacious and prudent men, who have proved their sagacity by success, to wisely protect their business and family interests by the ready and effectual means of life insurance."

—THAT THE—

THE NEW HUB RANGE

Is to-day as far ahead of all others as the Electric Light is to Gas Light, and it is rapidly supplanting every other form of cooking apparatus Intelligent housekeepers are no longer satisfied with the old style of ranges that have been so long in vogue but demand something more economical with greater conveniences and best improvements

THE NEW HUB meets this demand, and more than double the number of any other first-class Range are sold in New England It is everywhere creating the greatest enthusiasm among our leading housekeepers who are rapidly exchanging their old ranges for the New Hub Neither labor or expense have been spared to make it

THE TYPICAL RANGE OF AMERICA,

And in fact it is the

Accepted Standard

by which the merits and defects of other Ranges are measured

We ask all who design to purchase a Range to make themselves perfectly familiar with all the points of the first class Ranges for sale in the city and compare them with

THE NEW HUB.

We are not afraid to trust its fate to the intelligence of the citizens of Bangor

Two Eclipses

Will occur in '82 one May 17th, and one November 10th the first will be total, but owing to the perihelion of the moon (through a misplaced switch on the solar track) becoming tangled in the innumerable molecules of the aurora borealis and the nucleus of the comet, the obscuration cannot be seen in America unless you take a strong glass—of rock and rye, then you can see the whole display as well as lots of stars of a lesser magnitude But with the naked eye, at our store, you can see a boot—the

that eclipses all other makes in durability and style We have also a blacking—

that outshines the sun, for it shines as well in wet as dry weather We will not bore you with a full list of our stock, but simply say we keep everything found in a live, first class

SHOE STORE.

N B Ladies—we can show you May 17th, a FRENCH DRESSING for Boots, of our own importation, that is superior to any in the American market.

FORTY SEVENTH CONGRESS—First Session

House

[illegible] May 13 The session of [illegible] day was opened with prayer [illegible] Jacob Voorsanger of Houston [illegible]

[illegible] of California, Chairman of the [illegible] on Commerce, reported the [illegible] Harbor bill and it was ordered [illegible] and recommitted, Mr Robin[illegible] Massachusetts reserving all points [illegible] thereon

[illegible] of Maine asked leave to [illegible] from the Committee on Banking [illegible] a bill to suspend the issue of [illegible] certificates and to limit the coinage [illegible] dollars to the requirements of the [illegible]

[illegible] of Indiana, objected

[illegible] of Massachusetts, then called [illegible] consideration the bill to enable Na[illegible] Banking Associations to extend their [illegible] existence

[illegible] the reading of the bill and the pre[illegible] of various proposed amendments [illegible] printing on the Record, Mr Crapo, of Massachusetts, took the floor in explana[illegible] of the provisions of the bill and in [illegible] of the reasons which demand [illegible] action of Congress It was con[illegible] that the national banking system [illegible] adapted to the business interests of [illegible] country He did not claim that all of [illegible] provisions of the management of Na[illegible] Banks were perfect It would be [illegible] improvement, in his judgment if the re[illegible] which the banks were required to [illegible] restricted to coin instead of [illegible] The possession of $70, [illegible] of greenbacks by the banks might [illegible] of general distrust and panic, lead [illegible] demands on the gold in the treas[illegible] seriously to imperil specie pay[illegible] he nevertheless asserted that [illegible] country had never possessed a system [illegible] banking which in any manner, com[illegible] with the present in excellence and [illegible] A failure to pass some such bill as [illegible] reported from the Committee on Banking and Currency would result in the [illegible] of 393 banks within the next [illegible] months, and would involve the with[illegible] withdrawal from active use and circulation of [illegible] 000 of lawful money. In one sin[illegible] day the charters of 207 banks would [illegible] expire by limitation, requiring the retire[illegible] of $54 000,000 and this would result [illegible] stringency leading to a panic

Mr Bland considered the national bank[illegible] system legalized robbery, advocated [illegible] unlimited coinage of silver and de[illegible] nounced the silver certificate bill as a [illegible] crime

Mr Dowd of North Carolina, favored the pending bill Mr Flower wanted to vote for the bill but favored an amendment requiring banks to give three month's notice of withdrawal

Several amendments were offered and ordered printed for information, and the matter went over.

HIS LAST HOPE GONE.

Decision of the Court Below Sustained.

MUST BE HANGED JUNE 30TH.

WASHINGTON, May 14 Although a current report of a disagreement among the Judges of the District Supreme Court in regard to the Guiteau case has been almost universally credited to-day and yesterday, there is good reason at a late hour to-night for believing it was wholly erroneous The Post to morrow will make the following positive statement Chief Justice Cartter and Judges MacArthur, Hagner and James held a consultation Saturday, summing up the arguments of the counsel in the application of Guiteau for a rehearing of the case The consultation lasted during four hours and was marked by a most searching examination of authorities and a most rigorous analysis of every point made in the arguments The Judges were in

all through the consultation and in reaching the decision not for one minute differing in the general steps by which the decision was reached although of course each judge had his individual opinions on the various points of law and their applications The decision will be announced to day week, Chief Justice Cartter probably delivering it This decision affirms the sentence of the Court below and of course overrules the exceptions This disposes of Guiteau's last chance He will be hanged June 30th, 1882

THE DISASTER TO THE PLINEY.

Safety of Passengers and Crew.

NEW YORK May 13 The steamer Pliney, of the Liverpool Brazil & River Platte Mail Steamship Co at 3 o'clock this morning ran ashore at Deal Beach, New Jersey, and foundered She was commanded by Capt Mitchell, and her crew and passengers consisted of 40 persons, all of whom were transported from the vessel in safety In the absence of any statement to the contrary it is assumed that the accident was due to the severe gale which was prevailing at the time

Buck & Jevons the New York agents of the vessel, when notified of the occurrence immediately took steps towards ascertaining the damage incurred by the accident and to save as much of her cargo as possible It consists principally of 25 000 bags of coffee, consigned to firms in this city She also carried mails which have been saved The Pliney sailed from Rio Janeiro February 15th and her destination was Martin's store, Brooklyn. She was built in England about 12 years ago and is 1671 tons burden She was insured in London companies and her losses are fully covered

Later

LONG BRANCH May 14 The stranded steamer Pliney will be a complete wreck by Tuesday Before daylight this morning she broke apart just forward of the smoke stack and listed a little off shore The water rushed through the gap with great violence and swept over her from bow to stern The main deck was soon partially torn off and the sea broke a hole in the starboard side of the vessel over one hundred feet long The partitions separating the cabins and hold were splintered and then carried down by the heavy surf that surged with great force through the shattered iron plates of the vessel's sides The baggage of the passengers was removed from the staterooms to-day and taken ashore The sea is very high The beach for several miles below the wreck is covered with coffee bags carried out of the vessel by the sea and the surf is covered with coffee and bags

The Pullman sleeper, "Bangor," has been in the shops several months, and will be put on the rails in a few weeks. It has been almost completely made over, every part has undergone repair or improvement. The car is painted olive, and finished in Eastlake style in black, gold and carmine.

THE LATE HORACE DURGIN The Mount Desert Herald of May 12th, contains the following reference to the late Horace Durgin, whose sudden death in this city was chronicled by us. "Mr. Durgin commenced business early in life at Cranberry Isle in a store, in the employ of Symns & Eaton, of Boston, who were pleased with his good management and continued to keep him in their employ until, by uncommon energy and industry, he accumulated capital enough to buy the firm out. He then continued there on his own account and was a successful and enterprising merchant, particularly so in the fish business. Afterward he removed to Tremont where he built two vessels and the hotel now occupied by Mr. Teague. He continued to be successful in business until the fish business failed, in consequence of the bounty being taken off, when he removed to Bangor. He was known extensively on Mount Desert and to the eastward in the Provinces, and in the surrounding town in Hancock and Washington counties. He leaves a large circle of friends and acquaintances on Mount Desert who sympathise deeply with his widow and children in the sad and sudden bereavement."

AN INCIPIENT FIRE. A kerosene stove in the apartments of Luther Gowen and son over the Main street store of William F Shaw, created some excitement Sunday afternoon The stove was in a closet and it suddenly blazed up quite fiercely The son Frank) took the stove in his hands and attempted to carry it away, but finding it rather warm threw it down in the entry The cry of 'fire' was given and several came to assist. Some one procured a blanket and smothered the flames before any damage was done If the fire had not been quickly extinguished, considerable damage might have been entailed as water could not have been played on the fire without injuring very seriously the large stock of goods in Mr. Shaw's store The department turned out and were quickly on the spot but their services were not required

The Coming National Encampment.

The arrangements for the 16th annual meeting of the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Baltimore, Maryland, June 21st, 22nd and 23rd, are progressing finely It is expected that from 15 000 to 20 000 of those who wore the blue, will be in line once more We learn that there are the strongest indications that the successor of the present popular Commander in Chief, Geo S Merrill, of Lawrence, Mass , will be selected from the enterprising city of Chicago , the Senior Vice Commander in Chief from the Golden City, San Francisco, and the Junior Vice Commander in Chief from our own state.

For the former position the name of Edgar D Swain has been mentioned as the probable successful candidate, while for the latter, we learn that the comrades are looking very earnestly towards Waterville with a desire to secure the services of its highly esteemed citizen and soldier, Gen. I S Bangs, formerly of this city and to whom great credit is due for the persistent work done by him during his administration as Commander of the Department of Maine, during the year 1880 Should these two gentlemen be elected, we have no fears of a continued increase of this noble order We extend to them our best wishes

Death of a Noted Son of Maine.

Cadwalader C Washburn, whose death is reported, was the fourth son of Israel Washburn, of Livermore, Maine His older brothers were Israel Washburn, junior, Algernon and Elihu His younger brothers were Charles, Samuel and William

Cadwallader was born in Livermore, April 26, 1818 In 1841, after a brief residence in Boston, he removed to Mineral Point, Wisconsin, where he practiced law and bought lands which rose rapidly in value and made him a rich man. He was twenty three years old when he settled in Wisconsin In 1854 he was elected to Congress and was twice re elected, serving until 1861, when he declined a re-election He was a delegate to the Peace Congress of 1861

Afterward he entered the military service as colonel of the 2nd Wisconsin cavalry. In June, 1862, he was commissioned as brigadier general, and in November, 1862, as major general of volunteers He served in Arkansas and afterward at the siege of Vicksburg. After the capture of that stronghold he was ordered to the department of the Gulf, where he commanded the 13th corps. In November, 1863, he commanded the expedition which captured Fort Esperanza at the entrance of Matagorda bay, in Texas. In April, 1864, he relieved General S. A Hurlbut, in command of the district of West Tennessee, at Memphis. This command he held until the close of the war, when he returned to Wisconsin.

He was re-elected to Congress in 1866 and again in 1868, serving until 1871, when he was elected Governor of Wisconsin for two years. He has been largely interested in the manufacture of lumber at La Crosse, Wisconsin, and with his brother William in flour mills at Minneapolis. His health has caused much anxiety to his friends for some time. His brother Israel accompanied him a few weeks ago to Arkansas Springs, where for a time he seemed to rally, but the improvement was temporary and delusive. He was a brave soldier and an upright and courageous statesman.

VIOLENT INFERENCES.

The Campaign Against Mr. Blaine.

RESULTS OF THE PERUVIAN COMPANY INVESTIGATION ANALYZED — EVERY CHARGE OF THE ANTI-BLAINE PRESS DISPROVED BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Now that the Peruvian investigation seems to be over, except for the taking of testimony in New York, which does not promise to be important, a brief review of some of its successive stages may be interesting. It is universally conceded that the investigation was a crusade against Mr. Blaine. The men who inspired it have made no secret of this, and it need hardly be said that if they had discovered something to his discredit it would not have been a good defence to show that their motives were not of the highest. Nearly 800 pages of documents and 400 pages of testimony have been printed at the public expense in pursuance of this object, and in all of them there is not a document or a shred of credible testimony which reflects anything but credit upon Mr. Blaine's brief but brilliant administration of eight months. His enemies in the press and elsewhere started into this investigation with an interrogation point, and they came out with an interrogation point, and nothing besides. They began by saying 'Why did Mr. Blaine do this and that?' and they come out saying, 'Why did Mr. Blaine do the other thing?' In all the interval the columns of the anti-Blaine newspapers have been burdened with questions and suspicions—never with anything resembling facts and proofs. As each one of these questions and suspicions has been successively disposed of, they have jumped to the next without ever retracting the false accusation from which they had just been driven. The history of the investigation in this respect is singular and exceptional. A column or two might be filled with the charges against Mr. Blaine in this matter that have been preferred, exploited for days and weeks, and then dropped when disproved, only to be followed by another equally unfounded. Here are a few examples of these charges:

First—That Mr. Blaine made away with the missing letters. This charge was directly made in some papers, insinuated in many others. The investigation has shown that Mr. Blaine never saw them; that they were not addressed to him, but to the President, that they were utterly unimportant and of a kind which were no more likely to be brought to a Secretary's attention than every check going through a bank is likely to be brought to the attention of the President, that they have never been considered of the least consequence since Shipherd produced duplicates of them.

Second—That Mr. Blaine "deceived" President Arthur regarding the instructions to Mr. Trescott, making them much more belligerent than the President supposed they were to be. Mr. Blaine read to the committee the very draft, patched with mucilage and interlined, which he read to the President in his bedroom, and which is identical with the printed instructions. Since this was done there has not been a whisper on the subject from the rabidest anti-Blaine newspaper, but not one of them has ever retracted the charge.

Third—That Mr. Blaine usurped the functions of a dying President. This is the meanest of all these unfounded and retracted charges. The dates of the published correspondence show that not a letter was written by Mr. Blaine during President Garfield's languishing which it is at all likely would have been shown to him had he been well and engaged in the discharge of his duties with the exception, perhaps, of the letter declining the proposition of President Grevy for a joint intervention of France and the United States in the South American difficulties. It is a good illustration of the unfairness with which Mr. Blaine has been treated that this despatch, in which he simply declined to commit the government to a course at once injudicious and un-American, has been cited as a proof of the charge that he was using his power during the disability of a President to initiate a bold foreign policy and to secure his retention in office. The charge that during the same period he was using the State Department in the interest of claims speculators is equally unjust and unfounded, as will be seen further on.

Fourth—That Mr. Blaine knew from Mr. Shipherd that a bribe had been offered to Hurlbut. This has been contradicted by Senator Blair, the only witness present, and Shipherd's collateral statement that he took pains to tell all his alleged counsel that he had attempted this bribery has been shown to be a silly falsehood by the completest testimony of five of them: Senator Blair, Senator [illegible], Ex-Senator Cragin and Collector Robertson. The story was incredible on its face but the Anti-Blaine papers rung all the changes on it, and none of them have acknowledged the injustice of their criticism.

Fifth—That Mr. Blaine's policy toward Chili and Peru was directly in the interest of the Cochet claim. This was the whole cry at the beginning of the investigation. The list of stockholders of the Peruvian Company which found was to contain Mr. Blaine's name. The fact is, that the instructions to Ministers Kilpatrick and Hurlbut, sent on the same day, June 15, and harmonious with each other, marked out a course toward those two countries from which the Department did not vary so long as Mr. Blaine was at the head of it, and were sent six weeks before Mr. Blaine first saw Mr. Shipherd and then heard for the first time, as he testifies, of the Cochet claim. That claim is first mentioned by Mr. Blaine more than a month after President Garfield was shot and five months after Mr. Blaine became Secretary of State. And this is the way he used his power to push it in the letter of August 4:

"The two claims for which special consideration and active intervention have been asked are those known as the Cochet claim and the Landreau claim. In reference to the Cochet claim there has been no information laid before the Department of a sufficiently definite character to warrant a specific instruction, and, in the absence of the requisite data here, you will be left to take such steps as may seem expedient on investigating the origin and character of the claim. The primal point at issue is whether any American citizen or association of citizens has acquired an interest in the claim in a manner entitling him or them to the good offices of the Government in making any representation to Peru. As the American holders of the claim or their attorneys will be on the ground, you will no doubt be placed in possession of all the facts, but you will take no step committing your Government to the use of its good offices without first reporting in full to the Department for well considered and definite instruction."

Only three other letters were written by Mr. Blaine while Secretary of State in which the Cochet claim was mentioned—one on November 17, in which he says, "After the instructions in my No 7 in regard to this subject had been mailed I became convinced that there was no need of even the preliminary inquiry which I suggested in regard to the Cochet claim. There is no just ground whatever on which this Government could intervene in behalf of it," another on November 19, in which he told General Hurlbut that he would probably be asked to promote the interests of the Peruvian Company by its agents, and warned him to "specially avoid any advocacy of the claims of that or any other company or individual in the pursuit of personal ends or business enterprises," and the last, written December 5, in which Mr. Blaine acknowledged the receipt of Mr. Hurlbut's letter disclosing Shepherd's attempted bribery, spoke of the "indecency and dishonor" of the latter's conduct, and noted Hurlbut's suggestion that perhaps he was not "in his right mind." In spite of this overwhelming evidence, the enemies of Mr. Blaine continued to charge that he was in league with the Peruvian Company until Shipherd's extravagant and clumsy perjuries involved the whole subject of that mythical corporation in ridicule. Then they abandoned Shipherd entirely, and retreated to the next position, viz:

Sixth—That Mr. Blaine's policy toward Chili and Peru was wholly in the interest of the Landreau claim. The story of the Landreau claim is too long to tell in full now. It came to Mr. Blaine with a standing of twelve years before the Department and the commendation both of Congress and of two former Secretaries of State. The public, to whom it has been represented that Mr. Blaine spent much of his time forcing this claim upon Peru to the sore of her distress may be interested to know that there are only three letters written by Mr. Blaine when he was Secretary in which this claim is discussed at all—two to General Hurlbut and one to Minister Trescot. In the letter of August 4, Mr. Blaine says to General Hurlbut: "In regard to the Landreau claim I see no reason to differ from the conclusion to which my predecessors seem to have arrived." He then gives the history of the claim, and states the opinion of this Government that Landreau ought to be given a hearing, and that if he be found to possess rights no definite treaty should be made in disregard of them. In the letter of November 17, Mr. Blaine tells General Hurlbut that "that claim must not, of course, be pressed in any manner that would seem to embarrass Peru in the hour of her great distress," and tells him that "your previous instruction to use your good offices in procuring an adjudication" of the claim was made in view of the rumors that numerous French and English claims were to be presented, in which event the Secretary "was anxious that the resources of Peru should not be exhausted in the settlement of other claims to the prejudice and detriment of one belonging to an American citizen." The brief instruction of December 16 to Mr. Trescot is worth quoting, because it states in a few terse sentences all that was ever said by Mr. Blaine regarding the Landreau claim and disposes of a cloud of misrepresentations. It is this:

"While disabusing the mind of the Chilian Government of any impression that the United States meditates interference on behalf of private claims, beyond the use of its good offices, you will say that justice seems to demand that Landreau should have an opportunity to be heard in support of his claim before a tribunal in Peru competent to decide it, and that, if decided in his favor, a treaty of peace which might cede territory to Chili should not be made in disregard of any rights which Mr. Landreau may be found after an impartial judicial investigation to possess. Further than this the Department of State has not felt authorized to go, and I must express the hope that the Governments of Peru and Chili, to both of which you are accredited, will recognize the moderation and justice of the request made by this Government."

Seventh—That Mr. Blaine's policy was intended to force these claims upon Peru. The extracts given above are enough to show that the two claims were treated from the first on an entirely different basis and were kept distinct throughout. The one was thrown out of court at the beginning, and all that was ever asked for the other was "an adjudication."

Examples of these charges might be multiplied at length, but doubtless these are sufficient. When the first batch of them appeared, a clever Washingtonian, who is not a partisan of Mr. Blaine, said they had the look to him of "violent inferences." The phrase is a perfect description of every charge that has been made. They have all been "violent inferences" from straightforward facts.

Congressional investigations usually succeed in finding some letter or scrap of paper, or an oral statement, or evidence of some kind, which may have an unfortunate look even where no wrong has been done. But this investigation has discovered absolutely nothing. All that Mr. Blaine's enemies can do is to draw "violent inferences" from his despatches. It is a singular case—a persistent scandal, wholly unsupported by evidence.
